

Modals/Tables

The biggest changes to my model from previously, was to add in the picture attribute.

Frontend Inspirations

I did not have any direct visual examples I used to base my example on. I chose this design through some trial and error and used the basic inspiration of a recipe card from my kitchen to base the design on. The general ideas I have encountered over time were making things clean and clear, and using subtle colors to enhance the overall design. Overall, I feel happy with how the basic design looks, and I think it gives me a good base to improve the design further.